

'OUR STORY'

The Aromatherapy Room and www.beautytherapy.com.au have their origins immersed in over two decades of dedication to the practice of, and training in the areas of beauty and spa therapy, aromatherapy, massage, and natural therapies.

A little history

Janelle Falconer, founder of The Beauty Therapy Centre College in 1989, commenced her own study in Sydney in the early 1980's under the instruction and guidance of a well-known European therapist, in her AABTh Approved School. After extensive training in additional aspects of natural therapies she returned to North Qld taking over Airlie Beach's first beauty salon in 1985. The salon metamorphosed into a holistic centre where Janelle's passion for aromatherapy, massage and natural therapies were reflected in the treatments offered. The Beauty Therapy Centre-professional training academy, was born 4 years later as demand for well trained therapists was growing and supply lacking. Janelle found that staffing her own salon necessitated retraining her therapists.

During the 1990's the school set to work reaching quality standards in order to become an AABTh Approved School along with becoming one of Queensland's first Beauty Registered Training Organisations in 1993. The organisation received the 1995 Whitsunday Tourism Association Award for Industry Training. IFA Accreditation followed, and in 2000 the college became a Provider for International Students.

A second branch of The Beauty Therapy Centre was established in 2001 in Brisbane (now the Australian National College of Beauty in Bowen Hills). Soon after, the Whitsunday College was relocated to Townsville.

After 20 years of, on a professional level, living and breathing beauty therapy education, training an elite group of graduates throughout Queensland, and 25 years experience in the fields of beauty and natural therapies, Janelle decided it was time to for a little more life balance, transferring ownership of her college and the reigns of Principal to Sally-Jane Fenech in December 2008.

Janelle, along with pursuing her passions for aromatherapy and holistic therapies, holds workshops through her business The Aromatherapy Room (www.aromatherapyroom.com.au or www.beautytherapy.com.au) and also continues to assist Sally at The Beauty Therapy Centre as education consultant, part time trainer and online tutor. Janelle invites industry professionals to list on www.beautytherapy.com.au by applying online.

More about THE AROMATHERAPY ROOM

The Aromatherapy Room offers quality training in aromatherapy, massage therapy, reflexology, and aspects of beauty and spa therapies. Janelle Falconer's reputation as a respected educator and passion for sharing her knowledge, expertise and experience ensures confidence in successful student outcomes.

Something for Everyone

The convenience of The Aromatherapy Room workshops held 'in house' for professionals allows for the flexibility many organisations require when it comes to upgrading or expanding their skills or those of their staff. Post graduate and refresher training offered by The Aromatherapy Room for qualified practitioners of natural therapies, massage, spa and beauty therapies provides the ideal training environment for professionals seeking to upgrade their skills, expand their services menu or to simply refresh.

For those wishing to practice in the industry professionally, to formalise Recognised Prior Learning into current qualifications, or to add to their existing qualifications, The Aromatherapy Room's ongoing training relationship with The Beauty Therapy Centre (Registered Training Organisation) allows for Nationally Recognised Qualifications or Statements of Attainment to be gained by way of a variety of delivery modes, including 'in house' and online, depending on the student's location and circumstances.

With stress being known as the major underlying cause of many diseases, both physically and psychologically, The Aromatherapy Room also offers lifestyle enhancement programs to non professionals providing enlightenment to the subtle potency, power and beauty of incorporating aromatherapy and related skills into everyday life as a preventative health measure.

Whether you're a professional, non-professional wishing to formalise or gain current qualifications, or just looking to enhance your lifestyle, The Aromatherapy Room will tailor a program to suit your needs offering one on one training or small groups 'in house', online or a combination of both delivery modes.
